Statement, Grievance, or Request:

I was informed that California was coming to extradite me to face charges out there, and that they should be here within 10 working days as a "common courtesy" (it has now been 14 working days and still no show). Are they or aren't they coming to get me? My mom is paying good money to talk to lawyers in anticipation of me coming out & going to court. If I'm not going (anytime in the near future) then she is wasting time & money. I would like to know the status of the situation.
